

CELEBRATING SPECIAL EVENTS DURING COVID-19

Consider these reasons to postpone special events during this time.

SPECIAL EVENTS = PERSON TO PERSON CONTACT.

Spread of the virus happens most frequently with close contacts. By hosting or attending a gathering, you're increasing everyone's risk of getting infected.

YOU'RE PUTTING LOVED ONES AT RISK!

Your grandparents and family members with underlying health conditions are at a higher risk of contracting COVID-19. It's your responsibility to protect those at high risk.

BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY.

People who look healthy still can be infected and can spread the virus to you and your household. That's why it's important to stay away from those outside your household, even if they don't seem sick.

HOUSEHOLD MEANS ONLY THOSE YOU LIVE WITH.

Gatherings are limited to ONLY those you live with. Extended family or guests should not be allowed over for any occasion.

We all need to work together to do our part to stop the spread of COVID-19. "Shelter-in-Place" doesn't mean you can't stay connected with friends and family. Schedule phone calls or video chats to support one another, laugh together and to celebrate life's big moments during this time.
